

Lara Akpojiyovwi

Lara has worked for over 28 years in various roles, including 19 years in civil service. Her skills are developing strategy, translating strategy into action to improve outcomes, and supporting implementation. Her daughter received an excellent education at Friars and continues to excel in sixth form. As a parent and former civil servant, Lara understands the Government's ambition for every child to be nurtured to thrive, and obtain the best possible education. She values the opportunity to work with others to ensure that we achieve this ambition for every child at Friars.
