

Akeem Adio

Akeem is an Engineer and Health and Safety Advisor. He has vast experience in both construction works and Health and Safety, including CDM Regulations and related quality standards. He is currently working for one of the London Boroughs. His experience and skills enable the Governing Body to ensure statutory duties around health and safety and buildings are met. Since 2013 he has been involved in advising on a new building project at Friars. Akeem has one child at Friars and two more who are now at secondary school but attended Friars.