

Susannah Bridges – teacher.

Susannah grew up in Cheshire, went to university in Bath and has been a teacher since 1995. Her first post was as a Key Stage 1 teacher at a primary school in Cheshire. After 5 years she relocated to London and taught at Townsend Primary School in Southwark for 5 years. During this time she developed a particular interest in the area of special needs and became special educational needs coordinator. Susannah joined Friars as Inclusion Manager in 2006. She works regularly with the LA and she has an extremely good track record of securing effective provision for families and children with additional educational needs
