

Maddy Webb

Maddy has worked in primary education for the majority of her career. She has always taught in London and joined Southwark in 2006.

Maddy is the semi-retired headteacher of Grange primary school in Southwark, using some of her spare time to bring leadership and governance experience to Friars.

Maddy is the Headteacher Governor at Grange.

Maddy's role as a partnership governor benefits the children of Friars due to her detailed and incisive understanding of pupil achievement. Links are also being forged between her own school and Friars to facilitate and support the best outcomes for all.
