Please take a look at the pages below for all of the brilliant learning your children have taken part in this week.

We hope you have a happy and relaxing half term break and look forward to seeing you all between 8:45 and 9am on Monday 21st February.

Safer Internet Day Friars

At Friars, we did some amazing activities. Here is a great one that Year 4 did! The children learnt about what should be kept private and what can be shared on line.

For Internet Safety Day, we discussed Fake News and how to spot them. One example that stuck in my mind was the 'Tree Octopus' hoax that went viral few years ago. Many people believed the news because there was a photo attached. But we know that photos can be edited and manipulated. So watch out!

We discussed many examples on how to behave while on the Internet. We focused on some children's reactions and responses. We concluded that we needed to be kind and responsible!

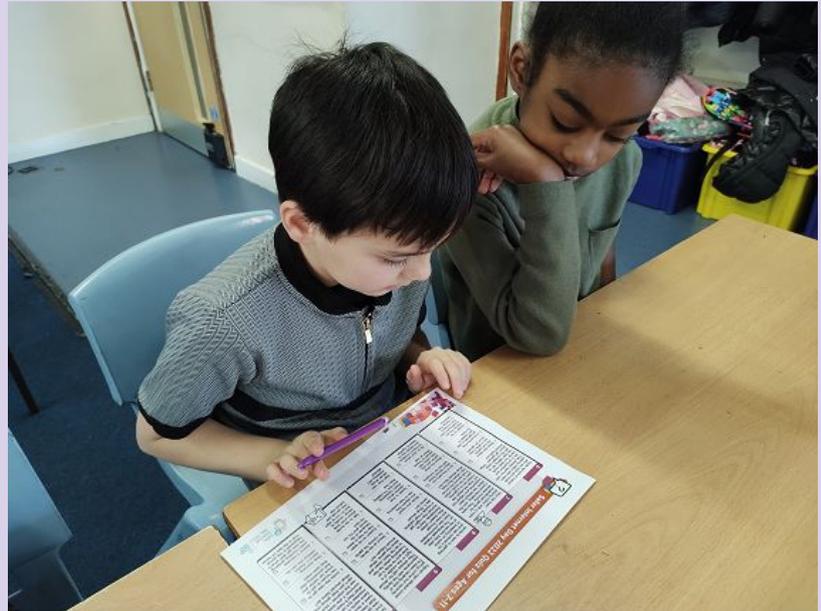

In year 6 we learned about the online gamers who would lie about high value items they can exchange only to trick other gamers to give theirs away!!
Be careful!

We talked about the effect of rude comments and emojis online. We should not be involved in such activities and must have the confidence to leave a stream or unfollow youtubers if we think they are not good role models.

Dress to Express Day! Friars

At Friars, Year 4 children have loved kicking back and relaxing in their own clothes during Children's Mental Health Week!

In year 5, we learned what mental health means, what difficulties some people face, emotions we feel and ways to help us cope with these emotions. We talked about the 5 ways of wellbeing: connect, be active, learn and take notice. Today we focused on how showing kindness to others can make us happier, healthier and more successful. We even looked at scientific studies that back this up!

Snowsfields Blue Class visit to the London Docklands Museum

On Wednesday, we took a tube to the London Docklands museum to look at sugar, trade and slavery. My favourite part was SailorTown because it was interactive and helped us imagine what life was like in London in the 1800s. We also looked at how Canary Wharf has been developed in recent years to the present day." Shem Y5 School Councillor.

Snowsfields Safer Internet Day 2022

On Tuesday the Bridges Federation celebrated Safer Internet Day and the theme this year was 'Exploring Respect and Relationships Online'. Classes across the federation took part in a range of activities in line with this theme, learning about the importance of showing kindness and respect to others online, while playing games or using platforms like Google Classroom. The children also learnt what to do in case they experienced difficulties while online. Every child in the federation signed an 'Acceptable User Policy' which was sent home for parents to read. As always, it was a great reminder on the importance of e-safety!

The NHS have an app to help families to make healthy choices when shopping. The 'Food Scanner' app is designed to allow you to check how much sugar, salt, fat etc is in the packet and works out per portion as well. It has a 'food swap' option to help us find healthier alternatives.

10 Top Tips for Respect Online: A DIGITAL WORLD FOR EVERYONE

Even before lockdowns inflamed the situation, one in every five 10- to 15-year-olds was experiencing bullying online: abusive messages, having rumours spread about them or being excluded from group chats, for example. Through smartphones and tablets, we're used to being able to communicate from anywhere, at any time – but digital devices became commonplace so quickly that it caused a problem: as a society, we haven't properly adjusted to how different they've made life. Our tips can help you to build positive relationships online and avoid some of the potential issues.

WHAT IS NETIQUETTE?

Etiquette is a set of rules to help us interact with others: like a code of respect. People follow this code every day (mostly without even thinking about it) and it can help us decide how to act in certain situations. 'Netiquette' (etiquette on the net – we see what they did there!) is the same, except it's designed to help us interact with others online, which is sometimes a whole different ball game.

1 SEE THE OTHER SIDE

Usually when we're online, we can't use the other person's body language or tone of voice to give us clues about what we can say to them, or how to say it. Try to think what the situation might be like for them, how they're feeling and whether we'd say the same thing if they were actually there with us.

2 HIT THE PAUSE BUTTON

Without a person physically there in front of us, it's easy to send something quickly – before we've really thought about whether it's helpful or kind. Just because we can do things quickly doesn't mean we should; it's better to pause for a second and think it through, instead of simply reacting.

3 MIND YOUR LANGUAGE

People have invented loads of different ways to communicate online (emojis, abbreviations like LOL, TBH and so on). Some of these can be triggering to other people (such as USING CAPS SO IT LOOKS LIKE YOU'RE SHOUTING!), so it's important to stay aware of the style of language you're using.

4 BE SURE BEFORE YOU POST

On social networks like Instagram or Facebook, vast numbers of people might see what you've posted. So if that's something negative about a person, it can feel hugely painful for them. If you're ever tempted to post something like that, ask yourself "do I really need to go public with this?"

5 PROTECT YOURSELF

Always think very carefully before sharing any personal information with someone else or in a group. Once something's been put online, the sender loses any control over where it goes and who might see it. If you've got any uncertainty at all, it's a good idea to talk to a trusted adult about this first.

6 KINDNESS IS CATCHING

Negative communication can spread rapidly online, but so can being kind and helpful (this happened quite a lot during lockdowns, for instance). A friendly, positive message can make a big difference to someone as well as helping us feel good about ourselves – so share the love!

7 WAITING CAN BE HARD

When we've sent a message or posted something online, waiting for a reply or for someone to respond can make us anxious. It could be helpful to think whether you really have to message or post right now – or if you could wait until a better time when it will cause you less anxiety.

8 THE NET LOVES ATTENTION

Most apps, games and sites use sophisticated technology that's designed to keep us coming back for more. It's important to keep this in mind when you feel the need to reach for your phone, tablet or console – once we understand this fact, it becomes easier to control how we use our digital devices.

9 REPLY WISELY

Sometimes it's tempting to fire back an instant response to a post or message we don't like. How we respond is important, however – whether we reply privately to the person or on a platform where lots of people will see it, for example, makes a big difference to how whoever is receiving the message will deal with it.

10 FORGIVE AND FORGET

Even though we try to avoid them, mistakes can – and do – happen online. They can sometimes feel like a bigger deal than they actually are. It's important to remember that we're all only human, and sometimes we mess up. Learn to forgive others and – just as importantly – to forgive yourself.
